NAMI

NAMI also known as National Alliance on Mental Illness is student led and run across the country on college campuses. This club seeks to raise awareness about mental illness with fairs, walks, vigils, and educational presentations to the campus. Nami's main goal is to defeat the stigma behind mental illness. At Lehigh they have hosted several successful events including suicide prevention training that certified 25 students, had a table on the front lawn in November where students signed a pledge to be stigma free, and, have had successful film discussions. This club also has many events planned for the upcoming year. This group has a solid member base that is very committed to the club. Nami is seeking full recognition from Student Senate in order to be able to reach more members on campus and have the needed support from Senate.
